Fund Management Commentary

With a net gain of 3 per cent, the LOYS Premium Deutschland delivered a robust autumn performance on the trading floor. Rising oil prices and protests in France dominated the financial markets over the past four weeks. On balance, the equity markets remained relatively unfazed in October, apart from a correction in semiconductor and AI shares towards the end of the month. Brazil, however, proved to be a real rollercoaster ride, with a run-off election initially sparking euphoria, only for the incumbent to be re-elected two weeks later. Whilst the Brazilian real weakened, the US dollar recently gained ground against the euro. The Japanese yen also trended higher. The market is now eagerly awaiting the US mid-term elections. LOYS Premium Deutschland recorded a takeover bid for Qiagen shares and sold its holdings close to the offer price. The plant engineering firm Aumann was newly added to the portfolio.

Important Information:

[1]The gross value development (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, the management fee) with the exception of any front-end load that may be incurred (this is otherwise marked separately). Additional costs may be incurred individually at customer level (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Model calculation (net): One investor would like to purchase units for EUR 1000. With a maximum initial sales charge of 5%, he or she must spend a one-off of EUR 50. Additionally, custody account costs may be incurred which affect the performance of the portfolio reduce the deposit costs. The custody account costs result from the price and service list of your Bank. Predictive statements are based on assumptions. Since all assumptions, predictions and statements simply reflect the current view of future events, they are quite naturally subject to inherent risks and uncertainties. Thus, they should not be regarded as guarantees or promises regarding future performance. Investors are alerted that future performance can vary greatly from past results. Especially performance results referring to a period of less than twelve months (Year-to-date-performance, start of investment fund within the last twelve months) does not reliably indicate future results due to the short period of comparison. Hence, the future performance of the investment cannot be guaranteed. Sole basis for the purchase of units are the offering documents of this product (the latest prospectus, the Key Investor Information Document, the latest statement of accounts and - if older than 8 months - the latest half-year review) that can be requested free of charge from LOYS AG, Barckhausstr. 10, 60325 Frankfurt am Main, from HAUCK & AUFHÄUSER INVESTMENT GESELLSCAHFT S.A., R.C.S.LUXEMBURG NR.
