Fund Management Commentary

In April, the LOYS Innovation Leaders fund saw its net asset value rise by approximately 3.9%. A ceasefire in the Middle East and hopes for the free flow of goods through the Strait of Hormuz sparked a recovery rally in the stock markets. In addition, several companies reported strong results for the first quarter of the year. The bond markets also saw some stabilization following the turmoil in Iran, although inflation rates rose globally. Nevertheless, German 10-year government bonds are now yielding over 3%. In the currency markets, the euro strengthened, partly due to the election in Hungary. Concerns remain regarding the oil price, which stood at $110 at the end of the month.
