Fund Management Commentary

May saw an increase in the net asset value of the LOYS Innovation Leaders fund by approximately 7,3%. The month also began amid fears of a new oil crisis. Rising inflation rates and falling bond prices reflect these concerns. The stock markets, however, particularly in the U.S., appeared largely unfazed by these macroeconomic concerns. Given the high weightings of a few select stocks, fossil fuel stocks do not play a prominent role in the stock markets. Rather, so-called technology stocks are leading the way, and this sector has reported strong corporate earnings. Accordingly, U.S. stocks hit new records.
