

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy of the LOYS Global MH Fund may generally be categorized as "Long/Short Equity, long biased". Our edge is the identification and exploitation of undervalued stocks on the international developed equity markets. Our investment universe thereby is not limited to specific countries or sectors; in principle any stock exchange traded company all around the world can be a potential investment. On basis of a fundamental bottom-up analysis, the fund will trade equity that is significantly undervalued. We demand a margin of safety and do not enter a new position until we have identified a high-quality share that trades with at least 30% discount to its fair value. The foremost criteria for the portfolio composition is the absolute attraction of the traded company itself, which is measured by the degree of the undervaluation that we have identified. The composition of the fund solely depends on the number and the attraction of the available equity that meet our requirements. Accordingly, the fund does not have to be fully invested on the equity markets: whenever the portfolio manager considers that no or not enough investment opportunities are meeting our criteria described above, the fund holds cash.

Fund Management Commentary

The LOYS Global MH also soared in March, showing a net value increase of more than 12% during the first quarter. Stock markets investors' preferences have recently shifted. While stocks from the Internet and software sectors topped favorite lists for a long time, many investors rediscovered classic economic sectors. The prospects of a strong economic recovery due to extensive vaccination campaigns are also providing a tailwind for cyclical and, above all, small-cap stocks. At the same time, the slight strengthening of the US dollar is causing some relief among export driven companies. And central banks have repeatedly reaffirmed their intention to avoid significantly higher interest rates on capital markets. In the LOYS Global MH, the fund management recently made smaller adjustments. Some profits were taken in Shoei, Takeuchi, Adeka, Sto, Haulotte, Maniou and Dr. Hönle, while Petrobras was added to the fund after a price drop.

Important Information:

¹The gross value development (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, the management fee) with the exception of any front-end load that may be incurred (this is otherwise marked separately). Additional costs may be incurred individually at customer level (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Model calculation (net): One investor would like to purchase units for EUR 1000. With a maximum initial sales charge of 5%, he or she must spend a one-off of EUR 50. Additionally, custody account costs may be incurred which affect the performance of the portfolio reduce the deposit costs. The custody account costs result from the price and service list of your Bank.
