Fund Management Commentary

On balance, June was largely unchanged for the LOYS Global in terms of performance. The month was marked by a ceasefire between Israel, the U.S., and Iran. Crude oil prices fell sharply as a result. Gold and silver are also trending downward. Meanwhile, bond markets stabilized, with the 10-year German government bond now trading below 3% again. The biggest winner of the month was the U.S. dollar, which gained significantly, particularly against the euro. Meanwhile, the stock markets had a rather lackluster four weeks. Both the DAX and the S&P 500 posted monthly losses. The LOYS Global fund manager took advantage of the strength in semiconductor stocks to reduce his positions in Marvell Technologies and Advanced Micro Devices.

Important Information:

¹The gross value development (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, the management fee) with the exception of any front-end load that may be incurred (this is otherwise marked separately). Additional costs may be incurred individually at customer level (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Model calculation (net): One investor would like to purchase units for EUR 1000. With a maximum initial sales charge of 5%, he or she must spend a one-off of EUR 50. Additionally, custody account costs may be incurred which affect the performance of the portfolio reduce the deposit costs. The custody account costs result from the price and service list of your Bank.
