

Investment Strategy

The LOYS Premium Dividende fund's investment strategy is to achieve sustained growth in the value of the assets contributed by unitholders. To attain this investment objective, the fund invests in listed companies with sustainable and continuous dividend payments. The aim is to enable investors to achieve capital appreciation in as many capital market situations as possible. The fund invests exclusively in stocks emitted by issuers domiciled in Europe and aims to be fully invested at all times. The fund's investment policy also provides for the acquisition of shares in companies with a low market capitalization.

Fund Management Commentary

Over the past four weeks, the LOYS Premium Dividende fund has seen its net asset value decline by approximately 2%. June was marked by a ceasefire between Israel, the U.S., and Iran. As a result, oil prices fell sharply. Gold and silver are also on a downward trend. Meanwhile, bond markets stabilized, with the 10-year German government bond now trading below 3% again. The biggest winner of the month was the U.S. dollar, which gained significantly, particularly against the euro. Meanwhile, the stock markets had a rather lackluster four weeks. Both the DAX and the S&P 500 posted monthly losses. The latest change in government in Westminster recently caused concern for the LOYS Premium Dividende, especially since the United Kingdom continues to account for the largest country weighting in the fund.

Important Information:

The gross value development (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, the management fee) with the exception of any front-end load that may be incurred (this is otherwise marked separately). Additional costs may be incurred individually at customer level (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Model calculation (net): One investor would like to purchase units for EUR 1000. With a maximum initial sales charge of 5%, he or she must spend a one-off of EUR 50. Additionally, custody account costs may be incurred which affect the performance of the portfolio reduce the deposit costs. The custody account costs result from the price and service list of your Bank. Predictive statements are based on assumptions. Since all assumptions, predictions and statements simply reflect the current view of future events, they are quite naturally subject to inherent risks and uncertainties. Especially performance results referring to a period of less than twelve months (Year-to-date-performance, start of investment fund within the last twelve months) does not reliably indicate future results due to the short period of comparison. Hence, the future performance of the investment cannot be guaranteed.
